After reading the first part of Jeremiah in January, we turn now to the hope of Jeremiah. The finality of God's lawsuit against the people for their sin begins to be seen in chapter 25. God declares through Jeremiah that He will punish His people by allowing them to be overtaken by their enemies. Rather than being a people in a beautiful, safe land marked by right relationships with Him and with one another, they will be foreigners and slaves to a people who will only do them wrong. However, God's promises do not stop there. Though God promises to punish them for their sin, God also promises to restore the people (chs. 30-31). After the people have realized the seriousness of their sin against the Lord, He will create a new covenant for the people, a covenant marked by new hearts that want to obey His word and love Him from the inside out. The New Testament teaches us that God was promising the covenant that we have today with Jesus! He does all of this today by His Holy Spirit to all who repent and believe the gospel.

D6 is designed to offer guided time the Bible for 6 days a week. The goal is to develop a habit of learning from God's Word daily. If you miss a day, don't give up. Just jump back in the next day.

Deuteronomy 6:6-9

These commandments that I give you today are to be on your hearts. Impress them on your children. Talk about them when you sit at home and when you walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up. Tie them as symbols on your hands and bind them on your foreheads. Write them on the door frames of your houses and on your gates.
